INFORMATION is wanted as to the whereabouts of Mr. PATRICK KING, who when last heard from was in the employ of the C. P. R. at Port Moody in the capacity of Bridge Carpenter. Some 18 or 20 months ago a rumor reached his friends in New York State that he, with a number of other workmen, were quarantined for small pox at Port Moody. He was formerly a resident of Brockport, Monroe County, New York. Since that time, 18 or 20 months since, his friends have received no tidings from him. A WEEK'S REVIEW.

Justin McCarthy's Review of the Week—A Micawber Administration.

Waiting for Something to Turn Up—Educating the Party.

Following is Mr. Justin McCarthy's review of the British political events for the week ending the 7th inst.:

"These traces with infidels," said Wamba, the jester, in "Ivanhoe," "make an old man of me." Being asked for an explanation, he answered:—"Because I remember three of them in my day, each of which was to endure for the course of fifty years; so that, by computation, I must be at least a hundred and fifty years old." After the fashion of Wamba, I say these swearings in of members after general elections make an old man of me. Five such performances have I seen in my Parliamentary experience, each of which ought, in the ordinary course of things, to have run through seven years'

LEASE OF EXISTENCE,

and therefore on that computation I ought to have been for thirty odd years a member of the House of Commons, whereas I know I have been a member only a quarter of that time. Up to the present the House of Commons has been engaged merely in the form of swearing in the new members. The greater number of the members of the new government have to be re-elected before they can sit in the House. A full fortnight will pass away before we get to business; meanwhile let us ask ourselves what the Salisbury government can do? Is it not a Micawber administration? Does it not after the fashion of the immortal Micawber, propose to pay its debts in promises, while "waiting for something to turn up." It proposes to offer Ireland a long Parliamentary "I. O. U.," which is to mature next February, but by which time the Micawber administration fondly hopes something will turn up. Perhaps the whole situation is not unlike that of the Buchanan Administration in the United States before your civil war. Slave-holding was the difficulty of your statesmen then, as landlordism, in all its ramifications, is the

DIFFICULTY OF OUR STATESMEN

now, and your Hartingtons and Salisbury's were for putting off the day of settlement as long as they could, fondly hoping something would turn up meanwhile, or perhaps that "the sky would fall." In your case the sky did not fall, and settling day would not put itself off to oblige timid, time-serving politicians. In our case it will be the same thing. The poor distressed damsel in one of Voltaire's stories said, "Nothing could have saved me but the heavens' thunderbolt, and the heavens did not thunder." Nothing but a miracle could put off the Irish question, and we do not expect to see miracles performed for the benefit of the Salisbury Administration. Yet this is the spirit in which the Salisbury Administration is trying to act. This is the whole meaning of the desire to have some business got through during August and the early part of September and then an adjournment till February. "We cannot tell you what we intend to do with Ireland now," Salisbury says, in effect; "we have not had time to think the matter over. You take our breath away by calling on us to say what we are going to do with Ireland the moment we get into office. No! No! Give us until February! By that time we shall have thought the matter out, and can lay our plans before Parliament." The interval cannot add one single scrap of information on the subject of Ireland to what is already in the possession or easily within reach of the Government. I quite admit that it might be a very useful interval for

SALISBURY AND CHURCHILL

to employ in educating the party up to Home Rule. If they are wise, if they have any common sense among them, that is what they will do. That is the only thing that can "turn up" which would be of the slightest real advantage to them in a political sense—the coming round of the whole Conservative party to the principle of Home Rule. If this does not happen in the interval, nothing can happen which will do them any good. I know of one other thing as to which some of them are on the look-out for—"something to turn up" which would be for their momentary political advantage—that is, an outbreak of disorderly acts in Ireland. In that hope, I venture to prophesy they will be utterly disappointed. The whole civilized world bears witness to the absolute perfection of the demeanor of the Irish people. At the present moment a city's population pouring out to say farewell to Lord Aberdeen, and Lord Aberdeen's successor coming in without one sign or word of welcome from any but the police and Castle officials—each event bears equal witness to the sentiment of the Irish people. Every true Irishman will work his hardest for the preservation of peace and order, were it for no loftier purpose than to thwart and disappoint the "Micawber" administration. Is the policy of the opposition to be a policy of watchfulness or a policy of combat? That is the question that the journals, the political circles, and the drawing-rooms are asking very eagerly now. Labouchere strongly favors and urges it in earnest on Mr. Gladstone. Gladstone is naturally well inclined to such a course of action. It is hard for him to keep himself at rest as for Hartington to push himself into action. But Gladstone, of course, has much to think over, many judgments to consult, before he decides either way. In any case the only question at the present hour is whether the policy of combat shall be put off until February. It does not matter much; it cannot be put off any longer. When February comes February brings with it just the same question as that which last spring brought—the Irish question—and it will have to be answered then. There is no possible compromise. The absurb hope that the Irish party and the Irish people could be bought off, or satisfied, or stilled, even for a moment, by some county government crumbs being flung to them, has been utterly dispelled by the meeting of the Irish party in Dublin, and the resolution adopted unanimously, enthusiastically, there. No! Among the things which the "Micawber" administration may have hoped to see turn up, that one thing which they were prepared to hope for—even a few days ago—they now know will not "turn up."

A POLICY OF COMBAT.

Joseph Taylor, a well known livery stable keeper at Hamilton, fell down dead in the middle of the road there one day last week.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

Sanford Fleming's Mission in England—What He says About the Prospects of the Proposed Cable.

Mr. Sanford Fleming has been interviewed in England relative to his visit and the proposed cable from this province to Japan and Australia. He said that the new cable would be laid to the Sandwich Islands. He further stated that many of the Colonial Governments are more or less interested in the undertaking, and we should hope to obtain a considerable subsidy from them. A certain portion of this subsidy must be borne by Great Britain on behalf of the United Kingdom, India and the Crown Colonies, and the remaining portion by Canada, New South Wales, Victoria, New Zealand, Tasmania and Western Australia. Then we are able to form some estimate from the operations by the present route to Australia. The business of 1873, which was the first year in which the International line was in operation, consisted of 8952 messages to and from the colonies. By the last returns—those for 1884—the messages sent and received reached 48,936. This is an extraordinary development in eleven years. But even taking the safer figures of the average of the last three years, we find an increase in the number of messages equal to 12½ per cent. per annum, and the average cost of each message £5 13s. 9d. On this basis of increase, the messages in the year 1889 would be 85,000 or about 850,000 words, of which it may be assumed that the new company would transmit half, or 425,000 words. Four shillings per word for ordinary messages is the contemplated rate immediately on the operation of the line, as the terms made with the Canadian Pacific Railway will admit of through messages being sent at that rate. Four hundred and twenty-five thousand words at 4s. yields £85,000. Deducting the cost of working and land service, say £40,000, we get a balance of £45,000 for the first year in which the line can be in operation, while the saving in the Australian business—calculating the difference between £5 13s. 9d. (the old rate) and £2 (the new), £3 13s. 9d. per message—amounts, within the first ten years, to £5,456,497, or an average saving of over half a million pounds per annum. And this does not allow for the great impulse which will undoubtedly be given to telegraphic and general business by the large reduction in charges, for the present rate is as much as 10s. 10d. per word between Sydney and London for ordinary messages, 8s. per word for government messages, and 6s. 6d. per word for press messages."

SEABECK IN ASHES.

Valuable Saw Mill Property Destroyed—Loss Over $300,000.

A very destructive fire broke out in the Seabeck mill property on the afternoon of the 13th instant, which completely obliterated the great lumber mill, wharf and piles of lumber at that place. The fire caught at the outer edge of the wharf in a pile of lumber about to be loaded into the bark Retriever, which was then discharging freight by the aid of a donkey engine. It is supposed that a spark from this engine set the fire. Piled about the wharves were fully 1,500,000 feet of lumber, and the flames leaped from pile to pile with incredible rapidity. A large store house filled with hay burned most fiercely, and from there the fire spread to the two mills, water tanks, machine shops, carpenter shop and other buildings. There were two mills, the newest being built but three years ago. Together they had a capacity of 100,000 feet a day. Adjoining one of them was a planing mill, which went with the rest. The site was swept as with a cyclone, leaving only the twisted machinery standing stark amidst the desolation. There were seven engines consumed. It is impossible to correctly estimate the loss. It is given at from $300,000 to $400,000, and thus far no report has been received as to insurance. The mills were the property of W. J. Adams, who at present is in San Francisco. Fully 200 men are thrown out of employment, and the blow falls heavily on the woodsmen of Hood's canal generally. The 1,500,000 feet of lumber burned had mostly been cut to order, and was only awaiting shipping. The flames swept under the iron roof of the new mill like a maelstrom and it was impossible to approach within many feet on account of the intense heat. Green lumber seemed to burn as readily as dry, and within three hours nothing but ashes remained of what in the morning had been a busy hive of industry.

The mills were founded in 1854-5 by W. J. Adams, Marshall Blinn and J. R. Williams.

CANADA'S CABLE LINES.

Transfer of the Canada Mutual System to the C. P. R. Co.

Direct Connections Made With New York and MacKay's Atlantic Cables.

The report that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company had secured control of the Canada Mutual Co.'s lines between Toronto and Suspension Bridge is now confirmed. The Canada Mutual Company was organized sometime about 1881 to give the Mutual Union Co. of New York a connection with the leading cities in the Dominion, which it did by building a line from Buffalo to Toronto and from Albany to Montreal and Ottawa. When negotiations between the Western Union Co. and the Canadian Pacific were broken off and the latter company decided to enter into an active competition with the G. N. W. Co. they commenced the construction of a telegraph line between Toronto and the Suspension Bridge. This line, owing to the company's having no railroad between these two points, was about to be constructed along the highways side by side with the Canada Mutual Co., when negotiations were opened up for securing the control of this company's line. These negotiations were successfully concluded, and the Canada Mutual Co.'s lines between these two points were transferred to the Canadian Pacific Co. The Postal Co. have just completed a line from Buffalo to the Suspension Bridge to connect with the Canadian Pacific Company at that place, so that Toronto, Hamilton and St. Catharines on the Canadian Pacific system from the

are now in connection with the Mackay-Bennett cables and the Postal Company's lines. The Canadian Pacific Company have a line of telegraph of their own from Montreal to Ottawa and Toronto, and are therefore now in direct communication with the Postal Company's western offices via Buffalo. Another important connection was made at Montreal a few days ago. During the past few days a new line of poles was noticed being erected on St. Helen's Island. Very few people had any idea that this was a portion of the Canadian Pacific Company's new line to New York, as it was pretty generally understood that the company were to cross the River St. Lawrence at Lachine near the company's new bridge. As this connection, however, could not be made for some months, a line was constructed to St. Lambert and the South Channel between there and St. Helen's Island was crossed an high poles. Sunday morning a river cable was loaded on the South-Eastern ferry steamer, and the operation for submerging the cable was commenced. One of the shore ends of the cable was landed on the island and then reeled off the steamer until the Montreal shore was reached. Connections were then made on both sides of the river, and a few moments later the "click, click" of the instrument announced the fact that the wire was working all right from Montreal to New York. Thus the first important connection in the new telegraph enterprise which is to revolutionize the telegraph business of Canada and to form so important a link between Great Britain and the Pacific coast is un fait accompli.

EUROPEAN CONNECTIONS.

Mr. George C. Ward, General Manager of the Mackay-Bennett Commercial Cable Company, has been in Montreal for several days in conference with Mr. C. H. Hosmer, General Manager of the C. P. R. system. From Mr. Ward the following particulars relating to the Mackay-Bennett system were gathered. At New York Mr. Ward said, we have one cable running direct into Wall street. This is the cable which will connect with the C. P. R. In France we land our cable at Havre, one of the most important sea ports, and in England at Bristol, the third largest shipping port in that country. Then we have special wires from our cable to London. Our land line from the cable to London is only 150 miles, whereas the other companies have lines from Lands End in one case, and in another from Ireland, so that our liability to stoppage is greatly reduced. Then we are so well equipped that we can get an answer from London within six minutes.

HEAVY CAPITALISTS.

In answer to the question as to who composed the Mackay-Bennett Company Mr. Ward replied, Mr. Mackay and Mr. Bennett. They hold, the whole stock, amounting to $8,000,000, while against this is arrayed the Anglo-American, with a capital of $35,000,000 and a rest of $5,000,000; the Direct, with $6,500,000 and a reserve of $1,000,000; the French Company, with $8,500,000, and the Gould cable, with $14,000,000, making an aggregate of $63,000,000. People can realize the pluck of a man like Mr. Mackay, who refuses to knuckle under to the monopolists. He is confident that a great future is in store for his company, and believes that in a short time he will control the Pacific coast business, and with this object in view is now pushing on the work with all possible haste.

AN EXPLODED SENSATION.

The Cormorant street "ghost" fraud, like everything else in that particular line, has ceased to frighten the timid children and the weak, nervous women in that section of the city. It is reported that this is not the first occasion on which the moving spirits in that affair have endeavoured to create a sensation and secure a reduction in the rent of their habitation and the depreciation of property in the neighbond. The ghost's Bailie wick is believed to be confined within the living day of a couple of adventurers, who have adopted the "ghost" scare as a means to earn a livelihood. Last night's attempt to draw a crowd failed. The only two persons being the "Prof." and a female, supposed to be connected with the house. The gate or entrance money did not pay the cost of advertising or the tallow penny dips that faintly glimmered on the occasion. Failing an enthusiastic audience putting in an appearance a lady and a male companion were observed winding their way from the rendezvous at a late hour. Exit the ghost story. Next sensation.

ARRESTED.

Deputy-Sheriff Langley this morning arrested John Snyder, of Lake District, on the Saanich Road for contempt of court and lodged him in gaol for twenty-one days duration.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE LOAN BY-LAWS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—As the Municipal Council are about to submit no less than three by-laws to the ratepayers for their endorsement, authorizing the Council to borrow money in the aggregate amounting to $150,000, for the redemption of which the owners of real estate are to become bondsmen. I desire to offer a few remarks in relation thereto through the medium of your valuable journal. It is no secret that the current of public feeling is very largely adverse to the proposed measures, and that if the Council sincerely desire to secure their adoption it will be necessary for them to submit their schemes for water, streets, and park improvements, sufficiently in detail to make them at least intelligible to those who shall be asked to pass judgment upon them. Seventy-five thousand dollars is no small sum to ask for water works purposes, and it is quite in order to ask to be informed how they intend to spend the money? A reservoir is spoken of. Where is it to be located? What is to be the character of the work; its attitude and dimensions? If it be necessary to purchase land for the purpose, what is the estimated cost? And if the mains to and from the reservoir must pass through private grounds, what will be the cost of the right of way? It is alleged by some members of the council, if not by them all, that the borrowing of $75,000 for water works extension and reservoir construction will not entail upon the ratepayers any extra taxation whatever. I see nothing in the by-law to that effect, but on the contrary the rateable real estate of the city is the security to be offered for the repayment of the principal and interest as they respectively become due. What guarantee is this council prepared to give that their successors in office will not ignore their pledge in this behalf and assess the real property of the ratepayers for the repayment of this liability? Of course they can give no such guarantee, and to keep on reiterating the assertion that the proposed loan will not cost the ratepayers a single dollar of increased taxation can only be meant to deceive the ratepayers. Again, all that has been said about the inadequacy of the water supply, the consequent danger that exists of destruction of property by fire, the pestilential condition of sewers, poisoning the atmosphere and breeding disease in various forms, are but so many bugaboos intended to alarm innocent people and frighten them into voting in favor of this pet scheme of Messrs. Higgins, Lipsett, and Barnard. I believe there exists no scarcity of water in Victoria to meet any emergency that may arise either in the matter of fire or filth, if only the fire department do their duty in respect of the former and the sanitary department of the city government properly attended to the latter. If it be true, however, that there is a scarcity of water, a remedy may be found without imposing a debt upon the real estate of the city to the amount of $75,000 as a beginning, and possibly double that amount before the work is completed. Let there be greater economy in the use of water. Apart from the large quantity consumed at the brick-yards outside the city limits, tens of thousands of gallons run to waste daily within the city, for which there is no remuneration; and this could readily be cured by the use of meters in manufacturing establishments, hotels, restaurants, wash-houses, nurseries, and where used to an undue extent for irrigating purposes. By this means would not only less water be used, but the revenue therefrom would be nearly if not quite doubled. As there is at present a large surplus revenue derived from the sale of water, there is no reason why the meter system should not be introduced, and those who are large consumers of water be made to pay for what they use other than for purely domestic purposes. Let some action be taken as here suggested and it will soon become apparent that no necessity exists for the proposed expenditure of $75,000 on water works account.

A few words on the subject of the proposed loan of $25,000 for the purpose of beautifying Beacon Hill Park. As Councillor Higgins is badly affected with water on the brain, so Councillor Barnard is laboring under a dangerous attack of Beacon Hill on the brain. They both need careful looking after, and it is to be hoped that both may be restored to their normal mental condition at a less cost than $100,000. In Beacon Hill Park the citizens have a grand place of resort and field for healthful recreation of Nature's own handiwork. We desire nothing better — no tinkering at the hands municipal councillors or any one else. Just let well enough alone. There is not a more beautiful spot to be found anywhere on the Pacific coast from Panama to Alaska, and I feel sure the citizens of Victoria will never vote the sum of $25,000 in order that the Council may have funds wherewith to mar the beauty of what is already admitted to be the most charming pleasure ground that any people could desire to possess. With your permission I may on another occasion refer to the street by-law.

TAXPAYER.

CHARGES AGAINST CHAPLEAU.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The Tribune's special from Ottawa says: Grave charges are brought against Mr. Chapleau, secretary of state, who is said to have been the recipient of a bribe amounting to some $10,000 from New York contractors. Smith & Ripley got the contract for construction of the Georgian Bay branch of the Canadian Pacific road from the Liberal government. The Conservatives on getting office, canceled the contract, and the contractors sued for damages. To secure Mr. Chapleau's influence, Mr. Ripley signed an agreement with Samuel Chapleau, brother of the secretary of state, and sheriff of Northwest territory, to pay him 10 per cent. of whatever sum the government would pay the contractors. In addition to this, on Samuel Chapleau's advice, the contractors retained the secretary of state for $500. Yet he never did anything in the case.

THE POPE'S EDICT.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 13.—Archbishop Heiss, in an interview in regard to the edict of the Pope against the Knights of Labor announced by Cardinal Taschereau at Quebec, says he has not heard anything in regard to it. The edict may be a special one for Canada. In case a similar edict should be issued for the United States it will be made public by Cardinal Gibbon at Baltimore.

Mrs. James Taylor of Berwick, N. S., will celebrate her 105th birthday next week. She reads without spectacles, enjoys remarkable health, and her hair is only slightly tinged with gray.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

EXPORTS of merchandise from New York from the beginning of the year to 3rd inst. were of the value of $178,957,000, as compared with $196,530,115 for the corresponding period in 1885, $185,988,275 in 1884, and $210,274,022 in 1883. The total value of the foreign imports at that port since January 1 is $24,947,077 in excess of the corresponding period last year, viz.: $250,326,000 (exclusive of specie) for same period this year, $217,522,000 last year and $262,782,000 in 1884.

THE new extradition treaty with Japan is exceedingly comprehensive, including all the latest improvements. Besides more vulgar offenders, it provides for forgers, embezzlers and dynamiters. If it is ratified, Japan will not be a Canada for Californian rascals. In fact, it will be as useless for criminals to cross the ocean as to go from one state to another. Political offenders are the only ones to whom such a migration will offer any charms, and as our political offenders become promptly reconstructed and join the rest of the family in a veal spread, the treaty, as far as we are concerned, is complete.

MONTREAL Gazette: The Chinese have already established themselves in Vancouver city and monopolized the trade in garden stuff. They have undertaken to clear a tract of 160 acres near the Pacific terminus in return for the use of it for ten years, and have evidently gone at the work with a will. Almost every kind of vegetable is raised, and it is from the Chinese that hotels and boarding houses obtain their supplies. They are evidently welcome for once, though how long will they continue so is uncertain. A white man with a market garden feeling their competition would soon, no doubt, bring about a change in the public sentiment and raise a demand that they should "go."

A WRITER in the Forum, taking the President's marriage as a text, discourses on the impertinence of newspapers that invade the sanctity of private life to pander to their readers. Respectable papers do not do that sort of thing. The legitimate newspaper man knows well where to draw the line between what should and what should not be given to the public. References to the personal habits, tastes or practices of people not in public life are not permitted in respectable journals, though we should not have far to go to look for a paper that is not above that sort of thing. It is not edifying, and in the case of people disposed to retort in kind it might prove very much two-edged.

CANADA has protected her fisheries without giving just cause of offence to a neighboring power. The latest New York Herald objection against Canada is that Grand Trunk and other Canadian railways are allowed to do something equivalt to a coasting trade. This is far fetched indeed. The Grand Trunk runs in the United States under a charter of the states which the road traverses and is, in that region, an American road, on American soil, controlled by American law. The Canada Southern Railway stands, on the other side, in the same position, only it is a link in an American road, not an extension. What is source for the goose is sauce for the gander. But there is nothing anatagons to a coasting trade in question.

WHEN the Emperor William travels, says the Pall Mall Gazette, every possible measure is taken to provide for his comfort. The Emperor's special train consists of three saloon carriages, connected with each other by a covered way. The imperial carriage proper is richly hung with blue damask, and at one end there is a small compartment, in which the Emperor likes to stand at the window when making short journeys. A small saloon next to this coupe contains a sofa and spring seat, opposite which is the Emperor's camp bed. Near the Salon is the study, in which stands a desk with writing materials, whose appearance shows good wear. Upon a bracket above the desk is a small model of the Column of Victory in Berlin. Adjacent to the study is a dressing room, fitted up with extreme care and good taste. A final room contains two small sofas, a leaf table, and a large mirror. With the Emperor's own carriage is a carriage for his suite, and this is, of course, quite differently fitted up. It contains five or six apartments, each containing a table and two small couches. All the rooms are connected by telegraph with the Emperor's apartments. The carriages are provided with gas throughout.

MONEY FOR CHURCH PURPOSES.

The Toronto Globe favors its readers with the following dissertation on the methods of "raising church money." It says: "The plans too often resorted to for raising money for religious purposes cannot be characterized or denounced in too strong terms. They are not only of the world, but of the worst part of the world, and ought not to be so much as mentioned, far less practised, by those professing godliness or saintship. If money cannot be raised for religious purposes without resorting to such unworthy dodges, then it had better not be raised at all. We do not need to enter greatly into particulars. Such devices prevail almost everywhere, and in almost every denomination. Some of them may be more objectionable, some less so, but they have all to be spoken of as unworthy of the high and holy cause which professedly they are intended to forward. They all aim at extracting money from outsiders by appeals either to their folly or to their greediness. A good square meal, and lots of laughing and funny speeches are the baits in many cases for getting a good sale to soiree tickets. Apron and necktie socials, with other similar tomfooleries where all will have a "good time" have also their patrons. Prizes and lucky bags also often help the pile, and a funny auctioneer sometimes comes in without a license to dispose of superfluous cakes and unbought bazar articles. Will professing Christians never learn that all such dodges are in the last degree unworthy? that they bring reproach upon the cause intended to be served? and that upon the whole they are eventually the most expensive, as they are certainly the most discreditable ways of "raising the wind" for religious purposes! As matters of taste they are in the last degree objectionable. As matters of morals they are, if possible, still worse. When it comes to raffles and lotteries, of course the whole thing is intolerable. Churches that have recourse to such "ways and means" cannot expect to prosper. The promoters of such enterprises may think themselves very clever in their efforts at spoiling the Egyptians, but they mistake. They but spoil religion while they make themselves contemptible. The cause of Christ ought surely to be supported by the followers of Christ and by them alone; and the best, the manliest, and, upon the whole, the cheapest way of rendering such support is by direct giving in the current coin of the realm or its equivalent. To buy soiree tickets or lottery script, or to vote upon the greatest statesman or the greatest beauty at so many cents a vote, with all the other etceteras usually on such occasions bringing up the rear, may be very nice and very funny, but in the meantime it does not look well, even in the eyes of those who are neither very particular nor prudish.

THE WORLD'S BREAD SUPPLY.

The leading newspaper of Boston, U. S., recently published comprehensive tables relating to the foreign trade in grain shipments, which revealed a heavy decline in all classes of agricultural exports. Thus in 1881, 150,000,000 bushels of wheat were exported to Europe at an average price of $1.11 a bushel, while for the year ending 30th June last, only 57,000,000 bushels were exported at an average rate of 88 cents. It accounts for this decline by showing that an immense development in wheat culture has taken place in India, Australia and Russia, and argues that an impetus has been given to this industry in the two former countries by the barriers erected in America against English trade. Without entering upon a discussion of the protection issue, it may not be amiss to point out that the period of high prices for grain has probably passed away for a period of some years at least. India is rapidly increasing her yield which is thrown on the European market in competition with that raised on this continent. In India the low price of labor is an enormous advantage in favor of that country, and handicaps the American producers in the race. In order to hold our own on this continent every means must be used to wipe out the inequalities under which the competition is carried on. We have one great advantage in being much nearer the European market, and the cost of transport should be much less than from the more distant granaries of India. A factor in determining the question must necessarily be the cost of transport from the wheat fields of the west to the seaboard. In this respect in Canada by the opening of the Canadian Pacific Railway much has been done. We have no doubt the railway company, in order to procure the settlement of the country and obtain traffic, will reduce the rates for grain to the lowest possible point. It has already given evidence that it appreciates the necessity of doing so by recent reductions. The proposed construction of the Sault St. Marie branch to connect with the grain fields of the American west by carrying the grain from that section to Montreal will tend to make the latter an attractive port for vessels seeking cargoes thus bringing about a more active competition of ocean freights. On a survey of the whole situation it is quite evident that the prospects from a Canadian point of view are growing rapidly more favorable.

A SPECIAL of the Canada Gazette has been issued appointing the commander of Her Majesty's regular forces administrator of the Government in the absence of the Governor-General.

HALO.

I wish I had longed to pass my dreamful days
In some soft clime beneath unclouded skies
Where brighter suns on brighter prospects rise
Than these, and earth a richer realm displays;
But ever since I met thy starlike gaze
This land thou hast illumined by thine eyes,
Thy smiles have robed these scenes with tropic dyes,
And round thy path a radiance ever plays.

And so I love these native woods and hills,
These rugged ridges, viewing with delight
This turbid river with its tribute rills,
Since over all is shed thy being's light;
And thus this clime my longing want fulfills,
For now 'tis soft and brilliant to my sight.
—John D. Cremer.

The Peculiarities of Horace Greeley.

"The peculiarities of Horace Greeley have all been greatly overdrawn," said his son-in-law, Col. Nicholas Smith of New York. "It is generally thought that Mr. Greeley was very much given to profanity when excited, but all the time that I knew him I never heard a single profane word fall from his lips, and my wife has often said the same. His temperate habits are well known; he never touched anything in the way of liquor except cider, and singularly enough, was very fond of cider.

"I have a little boy 8 years old, who is named Horace Greeley, and he has inherited his love for cider and dislike for other liquors from his grandfather, illustrating the great law of heredity. Mr. Greeley was very positive in his convictions, to illustrate: Dr. White, the late president of the Cornell university tells this story of him: In company with the professor of Latin and Greek at the Cornell university, Dr. White called upon Mr. Greeley. The professor pitched Mr. Greeley upon his known objection to the dead languages in the practical education of young men and a hot discussion was commenced. Mr. Greeley plied argument upon argument until the professor was completely cornered.

"'You must admit, Mr. Greeley,' he finally cried, 'that the Latin and Greek are the great conduits through which the learning of the ancients have come down to us!'

"'Yes,' said Mr. Greeley, 'I admit that, but,' pointing to the water faucet, 'you see that faucet; I drink three or four glasses of water daily from that, and the water comes there through the Croton aqueduct. But, my dear sir, is that any reason why I should chew so much lead pipe?'"—St. Louis Republican.

The Secret of Big Salaries.

People who can not understand why some singers get big salaries do not know that individual singers have individual managers who receive 10 per cent. or perhaps more of the salary for making contracts for them. Here is a story that is told in the profession, and will illustrate the whole business: Maurice Grau was traveling in Italy when he heard a singer—a basso, named Guarranini—at a small theatre. Guaranini sang very well and one day Grau sent for him. He asked through an interpreter what he would take per week to go to America. Guaranini was getting about 100 francs ($20) a week in the little Italian theatre, and answered, by way of a joke, '500 francs a week.' 'Tell him,' said Grau to the interpreter, 'that I will give him 5,000 francs a week.' The singer was astonished, and thought Grau a mad man; but his doubts were finally set at , and he came to this country at $1,000 a week. He was with Abbey three months, during which time he drew his pay and sang but three times. Grau's percentage continued whether Guaranini sang or not, and of course, the larger Guaranini's salary the larger Grau's percentage.—Charles Magleson in Globe-Democrat.

In and About Monte Carlo.

There is no one about to show the novice the game; no one is solicited. You play or let it alone as it pleases you, but it generally pleases you to play just to try the efficacy of a "system" confided to you in a happy moment by some sanguine tyro and warranted certain to break the bank sooner or later, a hallucination which amounts to a mild form of lunacy, most common in and about Monte Carlo.

Palsied old men, with their noses on their chins, and ancient dames who have outlived the charms of more gentle passions, are the most persistent gamblers; but the ubiquitous American never fails to be represented at some of the tables; many Englishmen and a large percentage of young English women—from the girl who makes a lark of hazarding her five francs to the systematic gambling women, are all to be seen, but all silent as a company of specters.

At 11 o'clock promptly the croupiers get up, shake down the legs of their trousers with the air of clerks let off for a holiday, the lights are put out, the great doors closed and by 12 o'clock to all appearances Monte Carlo is decorously fast asleep.—Home Journal.

Infant Candidates for a Baby Show.

A committee of doctors and painters has met at the Casino of the Cloitre, Notre Dame, to examine about 100 infant candidates for a baby show. Many were rejected. Several of the babies were discovered to be afflicted with diseases and ailments the existence of which the parents were not aware. The doctors have reported to the effect that baby shows might become one of the best means of sanitary inspection, which parents would not shrink from, but on the contrary would court, in order to gratify their paternal and maternal vanity and affection.—Paris Letter.

The Probable Origin of Butter.

Butter, as has been developed by recent discussions on oleomargarine, had its origin among the Scythians, Thracians, and Phrygians. After they had become acquainted with the manner of making it, it was only used as a medicine or as an ointment in the baths, but not as an article of food, nor in cookery. It was always in an oily state, and not firm like our butter.—Chicago Herald.

Lilacs Dwarfed by Potting.

White lilacs in bloom were among the greatest attactions at the New York horticultural show. Dwarfed by potting, they were made little trees not more than two feet high, perfect in shape and snowy with bloom.—Chicago Herald.

A Healthy People for All That.

The Hindoos never made the medical profession famous, but we do not learn that the nation suffered for want of physicians. Nor do we find the Chinese suffering for want of doctoring the body. Neither did the Jews ever produce a school of medicine, but they have always been a healthy people, for all that. They have never eaten "hog."—Hall's Journal of Health.

HAVENS FOR THE HARD UP

MAKING A LITTLE MONEY GO A GREAT WAY IN PARIS.

Superiority of Americans Over Europeans in the Matter of Kitchen Conveniences—Lack of the "Maison Meublee"—When Monsieur Was Short of Funds.

We Americans pride ourselves greatly upon our superiority over Europeans in all the material conveniences and comforts of life, as well we may. We point to our inventions of washing machines and wringers, patent flat-irons and vegetable parers, our strainers, choppers, beaters, with the justifiable satisfaction that by their aid we are enabled to dispense with such hordes of menials as are necessary to uninventive Europe, and we are proud that as important an American menage may be "personally conducted" by one cook as requires a posse of servants in Europe. Not long ago an article in The Figaro waxed eloquent over some recent kitchen invention. "If domestic science advances at this rate," cried The Figaro, "there are those now living who will see the day that the bread of a family will be actually made and baked in its own kitchen and not by outside labor as now."

We have 10,000 things beside domestic bread, fishballs, and doughnuts that Parisians have not, but as yet we have not acclimatized the maison meublee. Without exaggeration it may be said that one who knows how can travel in Europe for one-half the traveling expenses of this country, and for this superior economy thanks are due not only to second and third class cars but also to the maison meublee. In America a man may marry his grandmother, but he can not, except in a few large cities, stop at a hotel without paying for three meals a day even though his ordinary diet be that of one dying in the wilderness. On the continent one pays for room alone, being free to carry locust and wild honey in his hat if he chooses, or to buy them at the various unofficial restaurants from Bignon's to the Cuisines Bourgeoises of the Quartier Latin.

WHEN MONSIEUR WAS "HARD UP."

Two months ago I found myself in a maison meubiee of Montmartre. Had I found myself then in an American hotel there would have been no other horn to my dilemma than open gas jets and closed doors, for I had come up from Constantinople via Marseilles with scarcely $10 left out of the $150 with which I started from the Golden Horn. I took my room by the month, scarcely expecting relief earlier, although as it happened a remittance did find me out at the end of a fortnight. For this cubby house under the eaves I paid $1 (5 francs) a week. This was paid for a month in advance, according to rule, and having paid it I counted my assets and found that with portentous liabilities to starvation I had just $5.50. Just one week between me and charcoal fumes! And yet, when relief came two weeks later, I had yet left assets of 5 sous, the equivalent of one more dinner! That dinner would have been a huge wedge of pain ordinaire and a 2 sous slip of fromage de brie. Two weeks for less than $8 in a hotel which I was not ashamed to name even to my compatriots of the Splendide or Grand! Two weeks in a hotel with a stately vestibule and plastic gods looking down upon me, their divine stare not one whit less divine than that they gave a young Midas!

Fortunately it was the season of overcoats. Fortunately mine was capacious of pocket. Thus was I enabled to stalk as magnificently through those marble halls as had I the best of Cafe Riche dinners under my breast buttons instead of 4 sous worth of cooked sausage and 2 of bread in my sealskin coat tails. Fortunately Jean, the garcon de chambre, filled my toilet carafe every morning with fresh water, and fortunately, also, the sausage dealer at the corner charcuterie, who gathers into her swine-fed coffers the most of my diminishing sous, never asked any questions. What must she, what could she, have thought of the bearded pard who came to her so regularly with the mien and raiment of a Russian Boyard and departed thence with two pitiful bits of pig or blood pudding? And that piratical looking potato fryer in a neighboring doorway, what must he have thought when he gave me so often in return for royal and imperial effigies cast in bronze his crisp golden wares sprinkled with fine salt from a tin sifter—what must he have thought to see me clap the greasy brown paper into my rear pantry and march away as if every field of Golconda groaned under my mortgages? "What did you think?" I asked, as I gave Jean 20 francs at parting. "What did you think of so many greasy papers and crumbs upon my floor?" "Think!" answered the list-slippered functionary, with a grin, "I thought monsieur was a sec, [hard up.] We have many such here."—Paris Cor. New York Times.

Luck May Lie in a Horseshoe.

The old notion that there is luck in a horseshoe finds support in one case at least. When Maud S. did her first really fast mile at Cleveland in 2:10¼, Capt. Stone, of Cincinnati, who owned her pulled off her shoes and stored them in his desk and sold the mare to Vanderbilt for a song price. He has been making money ever since and capturing the best things of life. The captain kept only one of the shoes. He gave one to Mrs. Swain and she gave it to her larger brother. He hadn't had it a week before he was married to one of the most charming ladies in New York. He has been prospering like a green bay tree ever since, and has had the shoe plated and framed and wouldn't take a Florida lot for it.

Mr. Vanderbilt had one of the shoes and used to think it had a happy influence on his efforts to turn an honest penny. Cornelius owns it now and has it fastened on the front of his writing table. The fourth shoe is in possession of William Bair, Maud S's driver. Bair thinks that if he had not the shoe stuffed in the ballast of his sulky cushions he never would have been able to have gotten the work out of the little mare that he has since the piece of steel came into his possession.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Splendid Gymnasiums of the Ancients.

Almost every town in ancient Greece had a gymnasium, and Athens possessed three, the Lycean, Cynosarges and Academia, all of which were constructed upon a scale of great splendor, and furnished with every kind of convenience, covered and open apartments, colonnades, shady walks, baths, and every circumstance conducive to the health and comfort of the large concourse resorting thither as performers or spectators, or for the enjoyment of literary or scientific conversation.—Boston Budget.

He Was Still with the Firm.

A wholesale house in Chicago started a salesman out on the road, giving him $100 for traveling expenses. A week passed and nothing was heard from Mr. Traveler. Still another week passed, and still no word from Mr. Traveler. Finally, the house wired him as follows: "Mr. Traveler—Nothing from you since you left. Are you still with us?" To which Mr. Traveler replied: "Yours this date received. Have made draft on you for $200. Am still with you."—San Francisco Call.

DR. VANMONCISCAR,

THE WELL-KNOWN

SPECIALIST,

Proprietor & Consulting Physician of the Only Private Dispensary on the Pacific Coast, now permanently located at 132, 134, Third Street, Portland, Or.

DR. VANMONCISCAR has made the treatment of Private Diseases of Men a special study and practice for many years. Over 4000 cases treated yearly. Recent cases of private diseases cured in a short time. Ulcers, Humors and Blotches on Face or Body cured without giving Mercury or other Poisons. Mercury is the curse of the human race. Your children will suffer from its effects. Avoid it as you would avoid any deadly Drug, and use no more. These diseases are being cured at this Dispensary without Mercury.

DR. VANMONCISCAR

is a graduate of a regular Medical College, is well known over the United States and Canada for

Thousands of Old and Young Men he has Cured, and it is a well known fact that for years he has confined himself to the study and treatment of Sexual and Chronic Diseases, thus giving him advantages few possess. Dr. Vanmonciscar addresses himself particularly to those who have already tried various physicians and remedies from whom they have received no benefits, and who, in fact, have done them more harm than good. Medicine, like all other sciences, is progressive, and every year shows proof of its advances. By a combination of remedies of great curative power, Dr. Vanmonciscar has so arranged his treatment that it will afford not only immediate relief, but permanent cures.

YOUNG MEN

who are suffering from the effects of youthful indiscretions showing some of the following symptoms: Nervious and Physical Debility, Impotency (incapacity), Lost Manhood, Abuse of the Organs, Exhausted Vitality, Confusion of Ideas, Dull and Lost of Brilliance in the Eye, Aversion to Society, Despondency, Pimples on the Face, Loss of Energy, Loss of Power, Fear of Trifling. You may be in the first stages, but remember you are fast approaching the last. Do not let false pride and sham modesty deter you from attending to your ailments. Many a bright and naturally gifted young man, endowed with genius, has permitted his case to run on and on, until remorse racked his intellect, and finally death claimed its victim. Remember that Procrastination is the thief of time. So lay aside your pride, and consult one who thoroughly understands your ailment, and who will know your case, and find permanent relief for an ailment that has made many a student and noble shame. Thousands upon thousands of men in good standing in the social world, of prominence in the world are today suffering from the fruits of their doings, the seeds of which were sown during moments too thoughtlessness. Young man turn and gaze upon (if you dare) the picture of youth to enfeebleness. Do not (oh! could he restrain the arm of Fate, or had he his life to live again, there would not appear to you more expressly, let yourself wander back to the much cherished counsels of a loving father, and remember what you are today. Though you may for the present fill your station in society, the time is as inevitable as fate when your brilliancy will, like a dash, depart, leaving you a stranded wreck, a derelict, forsaken and lost; no children to be opportunity and enjoy life and happiness longer. If you claim to be a man, set your part manly. Be not cowards yourself with the thought that you are still in health. Delay not for in doing so you not only fan the flame, but wreck Nature and yourself. Remember, "Large oaks from little acorns grow." Take life seriously. Do not let your better nature be overcome by your passions. Be a man. Be honest with yourself. Consult DR. VANMONCISCAR at once and be restored to health and happiness. Remember that he will not take your money and then neglect your case, but will devote his time and attention to you, and will guarantee a perfect cure in every case undertaken, or refund your money. Consultation free and strictly confidential, and held by mail or personally. If you cannot call at office write for question blank. All letters and answers are carefully sealed from observation, and sent in plain envelopes. Medicines sent by express everywhere, secure from exposure. Correspondence promptly answered. Address, DR. VANMONCISCAR, 132, 134, Third Street, Portland, Or. Office hours: 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.; Sundays, 10 A. M. to 1 P. M.

It is said he goes to secure the elegant steamers Olympian and Alaskan to run between terminal points of the Canadian Pacific in British Columbia and the Sound.

The sportsman in purchasing his powder should be specially careful in seeing that he gets from his dealer the GENUINE PACKAGES or Messrs. Curtis's & Harvey. Very inferior powder is often sold at apparently cheap prices under the name of DIAMOND GRAIN, but Messrs. Curtis & Harvey are the original manufacturers and proprietors of the justly celebrated DIAMOND GRAIN POWDER.

THE SPROULE CASE.

An Ottawa despatch states that the settlement of the Sproule case is seemingly as far off as ever, and further proceedings which will undoubtedly tend to complicate matters worse than ever, may be looked for. Messrs. Sinclair and Gormully, Ottawa, counsel for the Attorney-General of this province, will present a motion before the full bench of the Supreme Court on the first of September to quash the writ of habeas corpus and also to set aside the order granted by judge Henry for the release of the prisoner. If the course pursued by the judge is sustained, a final appeal will be made to the Privy Council. It is learned that the British Columbia authorities will discharge Sproule and re-arrest him on the charge of murder, provided the decision of the Privy Council is unfavorable. The decision of Judge Henry in effect declares that the British Columbia courts are improperly constituted, and if this view is sustained by his colleagues, the execution of every criminal in this Province will be declared to have been murder, as well as well as many other important judgments illegal.

ITS MAGNETIC INFLUENCE.

Winnipeg Sun: "Sir John Macdonald is holidaying at the Pacific coast. Hon. John Norquay shortly after begins to feel the cares of office and the necessity of allowing the sea breezes to gently waft through his olfactories. And, he, too, partakes himself to the extreme west. And, finally, Mr. W. B. Scarth, the president of the Conservative Association, is irresistibly impelled in the same direction. It says a good deal for the magnetic influences of the British Columbia climate when it is able to draw three Conservative leaders at the same time to partake of its invigorating influences. For of course, it is the climate that has brought these gentlemen together. No other reason is to be supposed for an instance." Yes, Mr. Sun, and they will continue to arrive, for climate, like blood, will tell every time. Lots of room for all here. We have not bent-up Utics in British Columbia. Every one is welcomed.

REV. MR. SOMMERVILLE'S LECTURE.

Rev. Mr. Sommerville's lecture at Philharmonic Hall last evening, on "Ministers, Beadles and Precentors in both worlds"—that is, in the old and the new—was attended by a very large audience. Mr. R. Wallace presided. The lecture consisted of anecdotes, drawn principally from the experiences of the lecturer, illustrating the characteristics of ministers, beadles and precentors. Mr. Sommerville is an excellent story teller, with a strong love for the humorous, and his reminiscences were provocative of unbounded laughter and applause. The collection at the close testified to the appreciation of the audience. It will be divided between the Orphan Asylum and a San Juan church.

THE FASTEST TIME.

"Horseflesh" asks THE TIMES to state the fastest time ever made by Maud S. and whether Mr. Bonner, was in the habit of allowing this favorite animal to trot for money. In answer we have to state that so far as known to us, Mr. Bonner does not allow his horses to trot or run for money. Maud S., previous to her being purchased by Mr. Bonner made the fastest time ever made in a race, and since then she has beaten her own unequalled record; and at Cleveland in the presence of 10,000 people made the fastest time, 2.08¾, ever made by any horse.

THE HUNTING SEASON.

Hundreds of our people, both young and old, are rejoicing at the approach of the season for hunting and are now busily engaged in preparing their shooting irons for their favorite sport. According to the amended act, the season for shooting ducks of all kinds and all other winter fowl opens on the first day of September. In previous years the season opened on the 15th of August. The season for deer, moose, elk, reindeer or caribou opens on the fifteenth day of September. The partridge season opens on the first of September.

C. P. R. COMPLETION IN SEATTLE.

A circular has been issued by Mr. Geo. Olds, general traffic manager for the C. P. R. Co., announcing the appointment of Mr. W. Van Waters as freight and passenger agent for the Sound, with headquarters at Seattle. The Seattleites are in great glee over the event. The Times says: To-day it may be said that a competing transcontinental line has entered Seattle with a determination to do a share of our business if low rates, fair treatment and expeditious service can gain it.

REGULAR TRAFFIC.

The Island Railway will be opened for regular traffic between the 1st and 15th of September. The President of the company says he will give our citizens many opportunities, by means of cheap excursions, to see the natural beauties of the line and to enjoy themselves, fishing, hunting and picnicing, on Shawnigan and other lakes and the many arms of the sea, which the road passes on its way to Nanaimo.

AND STILL THEY COME.

Mr. E. P. Osler, director of the C. P. R., accompanied by his brother Dr. Osler, of Philadelphia; Mr. S. Begg, financial agent, Edinburgh; Mr. W. J. Brin, financial agent, Toronto; and Mr. John Burnes, Vice-President of the Federal Bank, Toronto, will reach this city in a few days. There are now en route in the company's official car No. 9.

QUEBEC ELECTIONS.

It is understood that an extra Gazette will shortly issue containing a proclamation fixing the date for the Provincial elections. The end of the present month is believed to be the time selected. The ministerial campaign has been regularly opened. The Rielites are confident of carrying the country.

TRAVEL TO VICTORIA.

To show the large amount of travel from San Francisco to Victoria, a gentleman wished to book a passage on August 12th for the steamer departing on the 20th inst., but he was informed that all the berths were secured, and consequently he was obliged to secure a ticket for the steamer sailing on the 27th inst., thus looking fourteen days in advance.

FAST DRIVING.

Mr. W. G. Bowman was summoned before the police magistrate to-day on a charge of having driven at a pace faster than six miles an hour, on the 31st July. Mr. Bowman admitted that the speed at which he was driving might have been greater than the law allowed, and was fined $5.

FROM THE NORTH.

Arrival of the Boscowitz—No Election Returns.

The Barbara Boscowitz arrived at 10:30 this forenoon from Port Simpson and way ports, bringing the following passengers: R. Cunningham, M. Hart, W. Barrett, J. K. Gilbert, W. Brittlebank, Sam McDowell, C. Clunees, J. Brown, O. Abrahamson, Jas McLaughlin, M. Williams, J. Holmans, J. Mellory and Mrs. Dempster. About fifty Chinamen, returning from the canneries, and as many Indians, were also on board. Her freight list consisted of 4000 cases of salmon from the Inverness cannery, 1,900 from the British American, 580 from Skeena, 140 barrels salt salmon, and a lot of furs, oils, bread-boxes, etc.

The ballot boxes used in the Cassiar election arrived at Port Simpson just before the steamer left and were to be taken to Metlakatla to be opened and counted on the following day. There is therefore nothing known as to the result of the contest between Messrs. Dempster and Grant. The friends of the former still stoutly maintain that he has received a majority of the votes. This, however, is very improbable. If the voters in the interior went to the poll at all Mr. Dempster's chances would not be very good.

THE SALMON PACK

of the Skeena district is one of the best on record. The Skeena cannery heads the list with 16,000 cases; Inverness, 10,500; British American, 11,000; Alert Bay, 1300; Rivers Inlet, 15,000; and Metlakatla, 8000; total, 61,800 cases. The salmon were never so plentiful in the Skeena before. Mr. Helgesen had put 800 barrels of salt salmon at Rivers Inlet.

Just before the departure of the Boscowitz, the schooner Skeena had arrived from Masset and reported that the Indians of Graham Island had refused permission to a party of men, representing the Yakoun Valley Coal Mining Co., to prospect for coal. They demanded of the Rev. Mr. Harrison that he should protect their rights, as Mr. Duncan protected the interests of the Metlakatlans, threatening that if he did not do so that his position would be more unpleasant than it had been.

Geo. Huson, a miner on Lorne Creek, and Mrs. Youmans, whose husband was murdered a couple of years ago, were married a short time ago. The ceremony was attended with the usual festivities and the happy couple received the congratulations of their friends of both races.

An estimate of the vote polled at Lorne Creek, Aberdeen, Inverness, Metlakathla and Naas gives Mr. Mr. Dempster 27 or 28 and Mr. Grant 14 or 15. The latter gentleman will require a majority of 14 at the other polling places to be elected. The messenger who brought the ballot boxes down to the coast reported that the miners of the interior were a unit for Grant.

CHAIRS ON SIDEWALKS.

The charge against Redon & Hartnagle, of the Driard House, in the police court, with having obstructed the sidewalk by placing chairs thereon, was dismissed by the magistrate. The defence contended first, that a space of two feet in front of the Driard was private ground; second, that if the chairs were an obstruction, the abutments of the theatre, which extend as far out on the pavement, were likewise obstructions, and it would be invidious to remove the chairs and allow the abutments to remain; third, that neither the defendants nor their servants placed the chairs on the sidewalk. The guests of the house carry the chairs out and use them, said Mr. Redon, and if I am fined to-day I will have to be fined every day in the year, because I can't prevent the people from sitting down outside. The magistrate dismissed the charge on these grounds.

BOOT AND SHOE TRADE.

Notwithstanding the fact that there are already established in Victoria a couple of extensive boot and shoe manufactories another wholesale house is about to be opened in the premises lately occupied by Messrs. Oppenheimer Bros., on Wharf street. The Winnipeg Sun in announcing the return to that city of Mr. A. C. Flumerfelt who accompanied Mr. J. C. Holden to Victoria, says that Mr. Flumerfelt came here to "spy out the land with the intention of opening a branch of their business. He reports the prospects as favorable and has secured suitable premises in Victoria, to which place a large stock of boots and shoes will be immediately shipped from the parent house in Montreal. The Victoria branch will be under the management of Mr. A. C. Flumerfelt, assisted by Mr. W. H. Redmond. The Winnipeg house will be managed by Mr. James Redmond. The enterprise of this firm is proverbial and this new venture is much and favorably commented on by the trade."

THE PORTLAND EXCURSION.

Already a considerable number of tickets have been sold for the Portland excursion next Thursday. The steamer will leave the wharf here at 5:45 a. m. standard time. A number have secured berths on board the steamer, so as to make certain of not being left. It is desirable that all going should secure their tickets early to enable arrangements to be made for train accommodation from Tacoma to Portland. It is probable that one of the elegant dining cars of the N. P. R. R. will be run on this occasion to accommodate the Victoria excursionists. Fare, for round trip, good for ten days, only $10. The trip is a delightful one, Portland itself being well worth seeing.

EXCURSION TO-NIGHT.

A large number have signified their intention of participating in the moolight excursion on the Amelia this evening. She will leave Turner, Beeton & Co.'s wharf at 7 o'clock. A band of music will be on board, so that those desiring to trip it on the light fantastic can indulge in that pleasurable exercise to their heart's content. Fare is only 50 cents for the round trip. The evening promises to be a very fine one. The party will reach home about 10:30 oiclock.

THE ST. CHARLES, PORTLAND.

A BODY FOUND.

The body of a white man was picked up at the sandheads lighthouse and brought to New Westminster on Sunday by Indians. It is believed to be that of a fisherman named Miller who left Ladner's Landing a few days ago and had not since been heard of.

CANADIAN PLUCK.

What Skill, Capital and Enterprise Well Directed Can Achieve.

Of all Canadian manufacturers whose fame has reached the four quarters of the globe possibly none is so familiar a household word as that of W. Bell & Co., the famous organ manufacturers of Guelph, Ont., who finding Canada too circumscribed for their operations spread out their enterprising arms to such an extent that at present they have extensive branch warerooms in London, Eng., New York, Sidney, N. S. W., Germany and in every country where the English language is spoken. The secret of the success of Messrs. W. Bell & Co., lays in the excellence of their manufactures. Beginning in a very small way, turning out an old fashioned antiquated style of a melodian in 1862, the output then being one a month, which in a short time increased to one a week, then to one a day. While the popularity of the melodian lasted they were enabled to increase their capacity until half-a-dozen per day was reached. Discarding the melodian on the advent of the organ the firm have ever maintained its position in the face of the keenest and most determined opposition that it was possible to give any concern; against all comers and countries the Bell organ has held the lead, until the daily output of these elegant instruments has reached the enormous number of thirty per day, each regular working day being twelve hours. This year an effort is made to reach a total of ten thousand for the current year. The company's catalogue embraces a variety of twenty instruments manufactured in the two mammoth factories operated by them in Guelph.

Mr. W. J. Bell, a member of the firm reached Victoria last night by the Mexico having come by way of Chicago, Denver, Salt Lake City and San Francisco. Mr. Bell is yet a young man, about 25 years of age. Notwithstanding his youth there are indeed but few whose travels have been as extensive as his, or so eminently successful. Taking control of the outside department ere he attained his majority, he has built up a trade for the company such as but few concerns enjoy, and certainly none in so short a period. Mr. W. J. Bell has control of the European and foreign business, with headquarters at 58 Holborn Viaduct, London, the very centre of the metropolis of the world. Occasionally he may take a run to the Australasian colonies, to America, to the continent or wherever else the extensive ramifications of the company may call him. He will remain in Victoria till to-morrow evening; thence he will cross to the mainland and east by the Canadian Pacific. Having to be in London early next month his visit to this province is necessarily brief. "Billy" as Mr. Bell is familiarly known still claims that the Bell organ is, and shall continue to be the best organ in the world. If skill, experience, large facilities and a thorough familiarity with the markets of the world can achieve this W. Bell & Co., assuredly can accomplish it.

THE INDIAN RESERVE.

The information published a few days ago, in respect to the Indian Reserve, turns out to be incorrect. During Sir John A. Macdonald's visit, an arrangement was effected by Mr. Dunsmuir, whereby the whole of the Indian Reserve of 119 acres became the property of the E. & N. Railway. A survey will shortly be made and the boundaries determined. The Indian Department, over which Sir John presides, will provide another habitation for the remnant of Songish Indians now on the reserve. Until a bridge is erected by the corporation a ferry will be operated between the city and the railway terminus opposite.

ESQUIMALT ROAD.

Residents in Esquimalt district, many of them supporters of the government, complain of the rough condition of the roads, and suggest that in future the road work be performed at the proper season, when the gravel would get a chance to settle and get beaten down before the summer drives began. Government supporters, however, should not complain, as road-work and road bosses carried the day for the government in Esquimalt. The man who curses the bridge that carried him over is an ingrate.

—The North Pacific brought freight for A. Bossi, A Cowan, Carne & Munsie, D S Johnson, Fell & Co, H Tilton, S J Pitts, T Dunn & Co, Turner, Beeton & Co, T Earle, Welch, Rither & Co.

—Parties in this city, are in receipt of letters from Manitoba and the Northwest asking for the names of wool dealers. From this it looks as if the Prairie province either has or hopes to have some surplus wool. Such a trade must come, for it cannot be otherwise than that sheep raising will be a prominent industry in the Northwest, as well as in our own interior country.
